

Inclusive Accessibility Policy

iGen Education 22/3/2025

At iGen Education, we are committed to creating a welcoming and inclusive environment for everyone. We believe that every person should be able to access our programs, services, events and information – no matter their ability, faith, language, culture or background.

We understand that inclusion means more than just physical access. It means respecting and valuing the diversity of the people and communities we work with.

Our Commitment

We work to:

- Make our spaces and events physically accessible wherever possible
- Provide clear, easy-to-understand information in multiple formats when requested
- Respect cultural, religious and language differences in how we communicate and engage
- Use inclusive, respectful language in all our communications
- Design programs that reflect the needs of people from a wide range of backgrounds
- Provide interpreters or translated materials where needed and where possible
- Train our team to be inclusive, culturally aware and responsive to different access needs

Listening and Learning

We know that inclusion and accessibility are ongoing commitments. We will keep learning, improving, and listening to the voices of people who are often left out or face barriers.

We welcome feedback and suggestions about how we can do better. If something isn't working for you, or if you need support to access our services, please get in touch. We'll do our best to help.
